What our students & employers say

“Highlands College helped me fulfil my dreams by giving me the tools to enable myself to gain the relevant qualifications in Culinary Arts which helped me gain the confidence to take a leap of faith and leave my long term job in finance to set up my own health food café; Nudefood. Not only did it help me, but my sous-chef was also taught at the Academy so I know that he has been trained to a high standard. I hope that in the future the College will also help train my future employees in the relevant areas of the hospitality industry. The support, guidance and advice has been invaluable to me and I would recommend anyone wanting to gain a great grounding in any industry to use Highlands”.

~ Lucy Morris, Owner & Head Chef, Nude Food

“As a former College student of the Academy it was an honour to be asked back to cook alongside the future chefs of the island and also the industry. It is very hard to find both front and back of house staff these days, and the students that I worked alongside, both 1st and 2nd year students showed great potential for the future. Highlands College offers individuals the opportunity to develop their skills and knowledge with the guidance and mentoring from excellent tutors”.

~ Matthew Gordon, Head Chef, The Green Olive

“I have not only gained some great friends but I have learned a lot about myself when it comes to confidence and believing in my ability to do well. The course has taught me valuable people and communication skills, and I have also had some amazing opportunities such as working with Mark Jordan and meeting Michel Roux JR. The tutors have been the most supportive and kindest members of staff I’ve worked with. A massive thank you for all the help over the last 2 years.”

~ Emily Hutton: Advanced Technical Diploma in Culinary Arts & Restaurant Service

“Highlands College is now well renowned in the UK and the Academy is viewed as a trendsetter and figurehead amongst colleges teaching Culinary Arts.

The College is a happy place with a caring environment - that always brings the best out of people in all walks of life. The Team has managed to win several UK awards in the last few years and students repeatedly make it into the final of ‘Young National Chef of The Year’.

In my position I travel around many colleges in the UK and overseas and I can honestly say that Highlands is up there with the very best.”

~ Stephen Scuffell, Chairman of the vice Presidents Council The Craft Guild of Chefs, Chef Ambassador Gourmet Classic Ltd
